Dear Prospective Client,

Over the last few years we have been developing the ScratchStats Scoring System. Our overriding goal is to assist golfers in their quest to develop their skills to the maximum level possible, and maintain those skills over a long period of time. Obviously there are many golf products in the marketplace today. Most of these products focus on developing physical skills.

Our product is specifically designed for course management skills, and individual self knowledge.

These concepts are not new, but the presentation and combination of the elements are. At the heart of our system is the Round Data Card. At a single glance you will realize just how valuable this system can be.

The unique Color Zones, a Quick Stat % Selection Guide for stat conversions and Stat Index allow any golfer, at any skill level, to easily pinpoint vital areas of strengths and weaknesses. Charting makes sense for pros, it also makes sense for amateurs. Why? Because without this specific knowledge, efforts to improve often result in frustration due to an unfocused effort to learn.

In order to improve you have to focus on the details of golf, while keeping a global view of your game in mind. This delicate mental balance is difficult to achieve, and the average golfer often struggles with this conflict. The ScratchStats Scoring System will help golfers to solve this conflict. As a result, this learned perspective will facilitate the best course management decisions possible.

Our products are very affordable, expertly crafted, and easy to implement, display and sell.
